Join NPA members & colleagues from around the country at this year's conference!

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to the National Perinatal Association's 34th annual conference at the Guest House at University of Utah, Salt Lake City. The theme for the conference is "Families at the Center: New Dimensions in Perinatal Care."

NPA conferences provide health care professionals and parents with the opportunity to exchange information and share experiences as well as their visions for the future.

We have an incredible conference committee and with NPA's multidisciplinary focus, this year's conference program provides a range of topics and speakers that should match a variety of needs and interests.

Your days will be packed with information and we hope you will enjoy the special events scheduled throughout the conference as well.

There will be many opportunities to network with one another, and it is our hope that your conference experience will enrich and energize you as you return home!

Sincerely,
Becky Hatfield and Cris Glick, M.D., FAAP, IBCLC
2013 Conference Committee Co-Chairs

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this conference attendees will be able to:

- Discuss risk factors that negatively impact maternal morbidity
- Identify risk factors that positively affect prematurity
- Discuss the latest legislative proceedings affecting maternal infant healthcare
- Synthesize the postnatal implications of intrauterine growth restriction and its effects on the developing infant
- Analyze strategies that may increase the breast milk supply of mothers of premature infants

Who Should Attend?

The NPA conference has a multi-disciplinary focus. Those who attend represent a cross section of individuals who are dedicated to the health and well being of mothers, babies and families:

- ◆ Obstetricians
- ◆ Neonatologists
- ◆ Advanced Practice Nurses
- ◆ Pediatricians
- ◆ Family Practitioners
- ◆ Nutritionists
- ◆ Public Health Professionals
- ◆ Epidemiologists
- ◆ Comm. Health Professionals
- ◆ Medical professions students
- ◆ Parents & Families
- ◆ Perinatologists
- ◆ Nurses
- ◆ Social Workers
- ◆ Administrators
- ◆ Midwives
- ◆ Researchers

The National Perinatal Association

The National Perinatal Association (NPA) gives voice to the needs of pregnant women, infants, families and all those interested in their health and wellbeing. NPA is a multidisciplinary, not-for-profit membership organization established in 1976.

Together with our exhibitors and supporters, we share the commitment to improve the quality of perinatal care, to increase efficacy of delivery systems, and to educate the public on what's needed for healthy development of the fetus, infant, and child.

Session Descriptions

Plenary Sessions:

1. Families at the Center: A Parent, Physician and Public Health Perspective: Participants will be able to explain the core principles of family-centered care. Participants will be able to identify March of Dimes activities that support families in newborn intensive care units. Participants will recognize the importance of incorporating a family-centered approach into their practice from a father-physician perspective.

2. The Impact of Assisted Reproductive Technologies on Prematurity, Low Birth Weight Infants, Multiple Gestations, and Birth Defects: Learn the Impact of Assisted Reproductive Technologies (ART) on infant health (prematurity, multiples, birth defects). Review the various forms of Assisted Reproductive Technologies. Review the genomic impact of ART on spontaneous mutations, propagation of genetic mutations, and the impact of both maternal and paternal age and life-style on fertility.

3. Baby Friendly/Breastfeeding/Milk Banking Panel: Review the needs for human milk in the NICU patient. Explain the Baby Friendly Hospital Initiative. Introduce the Baby Friendly Hospital Initiative to the attendees. The attendees will know the value of achieving full designation as a "Baby Friendly Hospital". The attendees will be able to identify the most important components of the Baby Friendly initiative. The attendees will be able to relate how the Baby Friendly Initiative can improve milk bank goals and outcomes. Learn how to become a Baby Friendly Hospital and why full designation of Baby Friendly is critical for long term breastfeeding outcomes and what to expect in a Baby Friendly Hospital.

4. Stillbirth: Learn the definitions and epidemiology of stillbirth. Become familiar with the causes of and risk factors for stillbirth. Learn the optimal evaluation for stillbirth.

5. NICU Environment Care: Identify key elements of the optimal micro and macro environment for the high-risk newborn. Describe how design and operation of the NICU can influence these environmental factors. Sensitize participants to the concept that the NICU environment must be nurturing for families and caregivers in order to provide the best care for babies.

6. Minding our Moms (and Dads, too!): A Call for Psychological Services in the NICU: Recognize the spectrum of psychosocial risks for families who have infants in the NICU. Identify limitations of current psychosocial assessment measures for families in the NICU. Be familiar with the ongoing development of the Psychosocial Assessment Tool - NICU. Participants will be able to recognize the effects of maternal mood disorders on the mother-infant relationship. Participants will better appreciate the importance of the mother-infant interaction to the developing baby's/child's emotional, social and cognitive development. Participants will appreciate the power of narrative to help NICU parents stabilize and regulate their affects and develop a sense of parental identity and efficacy.

7. A Secret Bereavement: Reduction of Multifetal Pregnancies after Assisted Reproduction: Delineate methods to decrease stress in families with multiple gestation pregnancies. Provide methods for seamless transitions between caregivers of women with multiples.

8. Emotional/Complex Trauma in Maternal Health: The Impact on Birth Outcomes: Learn the impact of complex emotional trauma on perinatal health. Recognize the definition of emotional trauma, especially complex trauma, and its role in birth outcomes. Recognize appropriate strategies to help reduce trauma for patients in the perinatal setting.

Plenary Sessions Continued:

9. Perinatal Legislative Update: To provide an update of what is happening in Washington, how it impacts the perinatal community, and what important issues are on the horizon in the upcoming months.

10. A Cooling Way to Treat Hypoxic Ischemic Encephalopathy: Become familiar with the pathophysiology of hypoxic-ischemic insult to the brain. Learn criteria for initiating standard of care hypothermia treatment for HIE. Review current data on safety, efficacy, and outcome of hypothermia treatment for HIE. Learn about clinical studies investigating additional treatment options for HIE.

11. The Sacred Hour: Describe five benefits of early postpartum skin-to-skin contact for both mother and baby. Be aware of nine instinctive stages newborns display that lead to the first breastfeeding. Know four practical ways to change the culture of early skin-to-skin contact to increase breastfeeding rates.

12. Prevention of Preterm Birth: Identify the most common modifiable risk factors for spontaneous preterm labor. Outline a plan for care for women at risk of spontaneous preterm birth. Discuss the long and short-term impact of spontaneous preterm birth on the individual and on society as a whole.

Workshop Sessions:

A-1: The Role of the Educator: The Impact of Preterm Birth on the Education System: To recognize the effects of preterm birth on the educational system and the long term implications on the children and the family. To demonstrate the critical need for early intervention. To discuss the challenges facing early intervention services and provide solutions to these critical issues.

A-2: Midwifery Practice: Facts, Fiction and Families: Identify differences and commonalities in education, certification, scope of practice and location of practice in Utah between certified nurse-midwives, direct entry midwives and unlicensed midwives. Locate data that measure the outcomes of care provided by certified nurse midwives and certifies professional midwives. List 4 common reasons women choose to receive care from a midwife, 4 barriers to continuity of care for women who choose midwifery care and 4 approaches to avoiding marginalization of women who seek midwifery care.

A-3: Banking for Success: Women Affected by Preeclampsia Taking Research Into New Directions:

Recognize the value of patient advocacy organizations in the acceleration of perinatal research. Identify the benefits of patient driven data sources to future and ongoing clinical trials. Identify the accomplishments and needs of genetic investigations into preeclampsia. Discuss the advantages of sample and tissue bio banking to collaborative research effort.

B-1: Music for Parent & Infant Stress Reduction and Bonding:

Participants will be able to recognize the concepts of resonance, synchronization, entrainment and coherence. Participants will know how to utilize psycho-acoustically designed Positive Intention Music to facilitate positive emotional states to support bonding between mother and infants. Participants will know the diverse applications of music to facilitate human emotional experience. Participants will be able to experience states of physiological coherence through practicing of intentional sustained positive emotion. Participants will be able to recognize music that has positive emotional impact on the stress of new parents.
